MOUNT REGIS

1954

1954

Foreword

Here in our album of memories, we have tried to capture glimpses of our last four inspirational and constructive years at Regis. Each event is recalled, from the comical trials of Freshman days and our new Sophomore week end to the supreme happiness of Junior Week and the memorable traditions of Senior year.

Through examinations, parties and proms, in classes and in Chapel, during retreats and vacations, we have been together, as friendly groups united to form the loyal whole. Our memories unite.

The business world, religious or married life will divide our class. But when we return, our memories will once again knit the Class of 1954.

With hopes raised high, faith and trust rooted deeply, we shall endeavor to put our ideals into practice. Fortified with spiritual and intellectual weapons, with the true philosophy, with zeal and devotion, with charity and love, we shall take our places in a world that is torn by opposing forces and ideals.

This is the book of our life at Regis. Each leaf is a page in our life; each new picture, a memory; each tradition, a milestone to a goal finally attained. Here is the story of our past. Whatever the future may hold, we know success will not be measured by a material guide. We have discovered the Way and the Truth. With these we shall attempt to continue to lead the Life with both humility and pride, under the royal patronage of Mary Immaculate.

In Dedication

The days of youth lie behind collegians. No longer may they procrastinate about the future. Many, perhaps, are leaving a Catholic environment forever. In a world degraded and overwhelmed by misery and sin, they must draw others to your purity and holiness, O Immaculate Mother.

Commemorating this Marian Year, Seniors dedicate the 1954 MOUNT REGIS to you. In so doing, they humbly and sincerely beg your assistance, as they go forth, representatives of you. These students have been duly instructed, not only in the principles of religion but also in religion as a way of life. Consciously or unconsciously, they will affect someone. Their duty, under your guidance, is to infiltrate all people with your glory, your joy and your honor, Mary Immaculate.

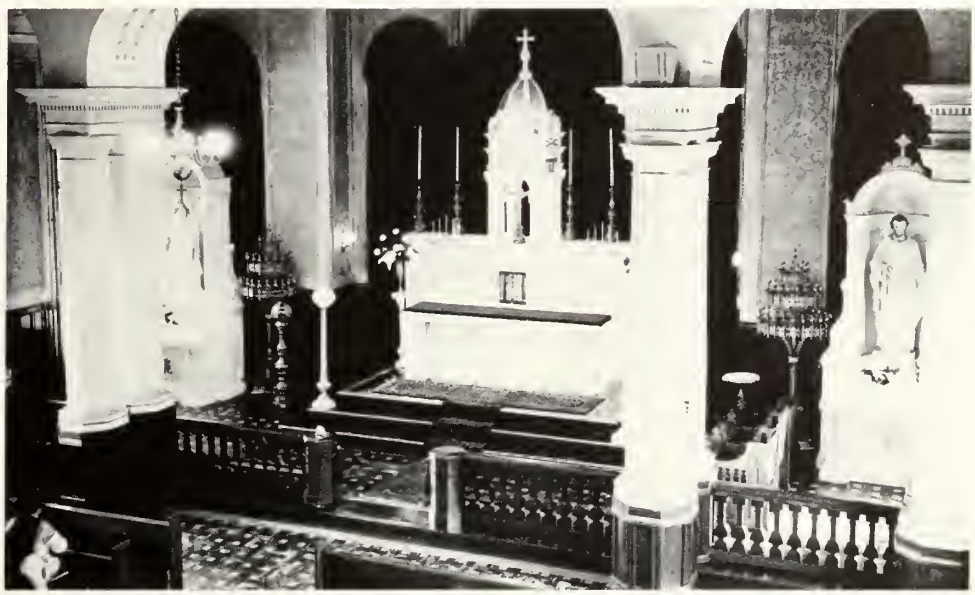
How insignificant Seniors are standing alone. But how transformed they become with your radiating through them. They cannot hope to conquer the world, but they can conquer the individual.

Much remains unknown to the graduates of 1954, sweetest Mother, but in learning, may they teach. May they instruct and guide through you, as you would do. May they, indeed, be Fulgens Coronae.

Scientific Followers Dwell on Memorable Katsura Drive

In the midst of the cherry trees, planted yearly by the highest ranking Senior, Science concentrators zealously integrate the problems of theory and practice in Cardinal O'Connell Hall.

Presence of Eucharistic King Makes Regis Different



The College Chapel, a font of peace and joy, where students bring their greatest problems and offer their sublimest happiness to God, in serene meditation.

1954

The Grotto of Our Lady, overlooking the Tower Garden, is the scene of silent visitations and of the crowning of the May Queen, each year.

God's Silence Enfolds Regis College in Peace, Serenity

Twilight lingers on the majesty of College Hall, symbol of strength and peace against a dark horizon. Here is the core of intellectual and spiritual activities.

The Sisters of St. Joseph unite in prayer at the Holy Family Chapel, St. Joseph Hall. This peaceful haven is the earthly home of the Almighty King, housed in the Faculty Residence Hall.

Seasonal Changes Enhance the Beauties of Campus Life

Business Building, monument of Colonial beauty, lurks in the dusky evening, after Regisites have departed from classes. In the foreground, Autumn lingers on sentinel Katsura trees that border the Regis drive.

Relaxation Becomes Integral Part of Every Student's Life

Reminiscences of four college years bring smiles to Sheila Joyce, Dorothy Fraser and Anne Downey.

1954

Regina Mitchell musically entertains Rita Fichera and Margaret Rogers.

Reviewing snapshots of their Bermuda vacation, recalls amusing moments to the travelers in the Foyer of College Hall.

Here Are Basic Training Grounds Toward a Future Goal

Glancing through the library windows in Spring, brings this picture of the Parterre, scene of many well-remembered social affairs. Glimpsed in the distance stands Cardinal O'Connell Hall, Science Building.

High on a Hilltop, Cradle of Regis Symbolizes Culture

1954

Beneath the porte-cochere, Patricia Bellini, Bettye Morrissey, Patricia Cronin, Barbara Scullane, Norma McNamara and Rosemary Denmark chat.

In the dusk, the noble birthplace of Regis College majestically stands on the quiet hilltop as a guardian of the campus. Beside the Tower Garden, it seems almost in reverie or perhaps anticipating college teas and other socials.

Friendliness and Truth Reign Supreme Among Students

The Parterre of College Hall, academic and residential building, overlooks the Katsura Drive.

Many collegiate frivolities hold sway in the campus Summer House.

Prom committee includes Fern Melanson, Patricia Cronin, Marianne Sanderson, Juliette Brassard, Helen Scully and Connie Lucchini.

Teachers Exchange Ideas With Regisites After Classes

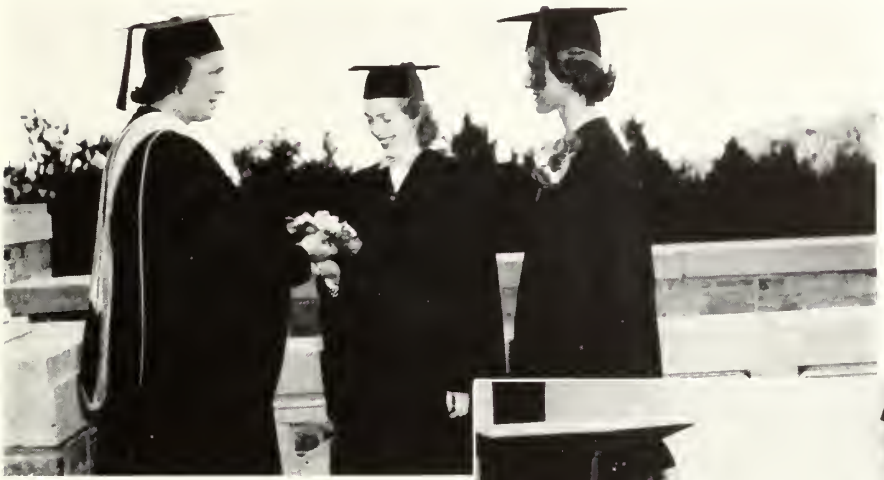
1954

Miss Julia Barnabo, Miss Katherine McQueeney and Fr. A. Baillargeon, O.M.I., discuss Faculty Show.

Miss Katherine Mullin gives Fern Melanson and Mary Jane Grady suggestions.

Parlez-vous Mlles? Helen Sullivan and Bette Lou Mullins find their French no match for that of Mme. Aline Laus.

Faculty Members Meet Students for Informal Conversation



Miss Grace Hawley admires Arlene's flowers with Consuelo Morgan.

On Founders' Day, Miss Mary Bryan congratulates Marlene Martin and Elizabeth Langie, upon their academic investiture.

Informative current views on world affairs spotlight Dr. Mary Delahanty's discussion with Dorothy Fraser and Margaret Rogers, '54.

Informals Show Relationship Between Teacher, Student

Bette Lou Mullins watches, as Miss Mary Hamilton shows an interesting German passage.

Miss Nancy Mohn smiles, while Marie Dalton snaps an Act II souvenir.

Engrossed in Miss Olive Nolan's outline of future activities for the Athletic Association are Helen Sullivan and Arlene Drown, '54.

Founders' Day Activities, Bermuda Holiday Mark 1954

Anticipating a Bermuda vacation with the Athletic Association, Miss Edwina Hughes helps Juliette Brassard and Margaret Rogers, '54.

Miss Frances Kinsellar pins Constance Lucchini's corsage, Founders' Day.

-Seniors

Charlene Ryan, Carolyn Sanromá, Carol Faber, Barbara Scullane, Grace Cronin (standing); Mary Alvord and Maureen McCarthy (seated) are members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, National Home Economics Society on the Regis College campus.

1954-

Ready for a long-awaited week end, Patricia Cronin leaves for home.

Everyone shares letters from home, as Ann Graney shows by reading Vivian Lamoureux's mail. Mary Louise Carr glances up from her notes.

Snapped While Busy Studying

Industriously clicking the keys is Business concentrator, Louise McLaughlin.

Viewing a Spring landscape, Roberta Flynn pauses to sketch her impressions.

Art students ardently concentrate on the finished product, the order of the hour being abstractions and designing in crepe paper. The Art Studios are located in Regis Hall, the cradle of the College.

Or Relaxing Between Classes

Judith Perault and Terese Crosby record a play with classmate, Norma McNamara.

Bernardine Cooney smiles, when she finds a letter, at mail time.

Pauline York, Home Economics major, demonstrates the art of cooking to the Senior Foods Class. Ann Mirabello serves Carol Murdoch and her classmates some tempting biscuits in the Laboratory.

Diverse Activities Highlight First Academic Hurdle

Mary Lou Drislane, '55, points out the mailbox to Jean Volante and Pauline Demers, '57.

Eileen Kelly, Ellen Finnegan and Camilla Dalton check fine distinctions with Webster.

Marie Cunningham, Alice Collins and Joanne Drohan devour contents of the latest Regis Herald, campus monthly.

Classes

ACTIVITIES

Government, Sodality Foster Major Activities of Regis Life

Clubs

Government . . . Mary McCarthy, Rosemary Denmark, Anne Ford, Constance Lucchini, Carole Bocasky, President; Marianne Sanderson, Vice-President; Patricia Cannon, Jeanne Kenney with friend Hilda (seated); Patricia Teehan, Eileen McNamara, Mary Campbell, Katherine Moynihan, Patricia Bellini, Marie Bertrand, Marjorie Gorman and Ann Ryan. Leaders relax during a busy year in Student Government.

Sodality . . . Victoria Macchia, Anne Downey, Ann Ryan and Patricia Bellini, Prefects; Helen Scully and Teresa Skehan (seated); Evelyn DesRoches, Eleanor Dillon, Margaret Gray, Madeline McCarthy, Elizabeth Bellini and Eileen Cunningham (standing). Sodality leaders consider agenda, designed to increase devotion to Our Blessed Mother during the current Marian year in her honor.

World Affairs, Glee Club Concerts Keep Students Busy

International Relations Club . . . Discussing projects and lectures centering in world events, Anne Raymond, Fernande Melanson, Mary Jane Grady, Claire Flynn and Marie Clogher gather information to be presented to club members, at their next gathering. This helps to stimulate ideas on several international news topics.

Glee Club . . . Musical memories of nightly rehearsals to prepare Regis Night at the Pops and the combined concerts in the Spring, bring smiles to these singers, Margaret Gray, Ann Louise Wadden, Agnes Badrena, Margery Roche and Mary Whalen. They helped to make 1954 a year of hit tunes, not only to their fellow students but also to their audiences around the country.

Athletic Association . . . Patricia Hennessey, Carol Hughes, Margaret Hassan and Patricia Turner talk over suggestions for the North Conway ski trip. After that, they will anticipate the trip to Bermuda during the Easter vacation. In addition, the A.A. sponsors field hockey, volley ball and basketball, intramural and varsity, throughout the year.

Clubs

Dramatic Club . . . Catherine Ferney, Alice Campbell, Margaret Austin, Sally Donovan and Arlene Drown talk over plans for the next Regis production, which will follow the others in their fine casting, direction and acting — thus making another superb theatrical production. Regis is proud of her little amateurs, who give the impression of world-traveled professionals.

Students Plan Pennies for Missions, Puppets for Drama

Mission Unit . . . Joan Turner, Chairman, discusses diverse ways to accumulate additional funds for the Unit, as Charlene Ryan and Carole Bocasky look on. Radiating their silent approval are Patricia Bellini, Margaret Mary Gray, Barbara O'Connell, Beth Harney and Mary Crowley, '54. Yearly projects included Rose Day and the traditional end-of-the-year Auction.

1954

Sigma Tau Phi . . . President Catherine Dowd appraises the antics of Sylvia Corsini and Ann Cunningham, as Alison Cass, Anne Doyle and Angelina Scopelliti prepare for the Club's annual Puppet Show. The Classicists edit the official publication, "Res Litterarum," in charge of Anne Doyle. Singing carols in Latin was one of their pre-Christmas projects.

Clubs

Louis Pasteur Club . . . Regina Hurley and Evelyn DesRoches, Editors of Scope, campus science paper, discuss microscopic findings with club officers, Regina Seales, Vivian Lamoureux, Anne Downey, Rita Barry and Maryann Kennedy. Informative meetings are held to bring enjoyment and appreciation of scientific work to the members in the Cardinal O'Connell Hall.

Modern Language Club . . . Officers, Bernadette Houston, Anne McInerney and Jacqueline McLaughlin, examine foreign treasures with Patricia Cronin, President. Meetings feature activities designed to interest concentrators in the fields of French and Spanish. Fascinating foreign places are frequently highlighted and viewed.

Regisites Seek Cultural Training Through Various Media

Art Club . . . Executives, Sylvia Corsini, Joan McDermott, Sally Egan and Jacqueline Cyr, watch quizzically, as President Anne-Marie Girardin adds the finishing touches to an abstraction. These connoisseurs find their home in Regis Hall, the birthplace of the College, which overlooks the spacious campus. Artists have a holiday, as seasonal changes at Regis provide endless subjects for their canvas.

English Club . . . Executives of the English Club, Jeanne Delay, Catherine Tobin and Rita Farina discuss plans with President Ann Kellaher, for viewing plays from the second balcony. Literati seek to develop culture through various media. The major project of viewing plays aims primarily at promoting appreciation for Contemporary Literature.

Mathematical Club . . . Bernardine Cooney proves that it takes a mathematical mind to excel in sports. Barbara O'Connell, Imelda Tangney, Gail McGrath and Carol Conroy agree. These concentrators and others interested in Mathematics worked on a weather data computing project for the Cambridge Research Air Force Centre, during their spare hours.

Clubs

Business Club . . . Enumerating the qualities of the efficient business woman, Angela Ricker accepts ideas from Mary Coppola and Jean Ryan, as Beatrice Russo and Marcia Ryan watch proceedings. Projects included an Alumnae Tea, which served as a reunion for present and past members. A talk by a representative of the Radcliffe Management Training Program was sponsored.

Leo XIII Historical Society . . . With Pope Leo XIII, their patron and guide, the club officers confer to prepare programs embracing world history. Joanne Hickey and Cornelia Murphy (seated), Kathryn Corcoran, Mary-Alice Powers and Teresa Skehan, President (standing), participate. Truth, in the study of History, is the principal aim of the Club.

Lambda Tau Phi . . . One of the chief aims of the Economics Club is to stimulate interest in the economic life of the nation. Mary Roche, President of the group, explains an Economics chart to her associates. Celia Quirk, Constance Dauplaise and Patricia Hogan observe intently. Officers map agenda to instill members with a greater understanding of present-day economic problems.

Clubs

Ethelon Club . . . Officers of the Sociology Club gather to consider future meetings and to review the results of the annual Food Sale, which they sponsor for the benefit of charity. Virginia Dennehy and Paulita Twomey (seated) check contributions on the clothing drive. Anne Delay, President Ellen Synan and Jeanne McAlice beam approval. Officers prove they are "Willing to Serve."

Nu Beta . . . After returning from her weekly field trip to the Regis Psycho-Educational Clinic in Dorchester, Mary Jane Kinne, President, meets Camilla Costain (seated), Jeanne Driscoll, Alma Cauley and Elizabeth Gilmore. These executives talk over ways to increase interest in psychological problems, as well as the Christmas social, which they hold for the children from the Daly School.

Home Economists Map Program for Varied Future in Society

Alpha Omicron Tau . . . Paula Fitzsimmons, Alice O'Donoghue, Joan Hennessey, Roberta Flynn (standing) outline their functions, with Carol Faber, Margaret Frates and Anne Grady. This is the departmental club for Home Economics majors. One of the traditional events is the welcoming of new members, which brings joy mingled with sorrow to the Seniors, in the Spring.

Kappa Omicron Phi . . . Alice O'Donoghue, Paula Clair, Anne Nally and Joyce Stephenson glance over Mary Leary, Regina Mitchell and Margaret Vincent, who are reading "Distaff," national publication of the group. This organization is a National Home Economics Society. Regis College was the first branch of the honor group in New England.

The Alumnae Association engaged in many spirited enterprises this year, under Mrs. James Denning, President.

The program opened with the annual Fashion Show at the Statler. This was followed by the traditional Harvest Hop. In November, at the John Hancock Hall, the Alumnae aided the Regis Building Fund with the Joan Moynagh Concert. Students and Alumnae anticipated the Noël Ball held in the Louis XIV Ballroom of the Somerset.

Second semester saw the Junior Class welcomed into the Association at the Traditional Ring ceremony, and later at the Ring Dance. Conjointly with the Guild, the Association made Regis Night at Pops a marked success.

In the Spring, a Reunion Supper was held in May followed by the Traditional Baby Day in June. Two Holy Hours were witnessed by the Association.

The Alumnae Association aims to promote fellowship among the Alumnae, and motivate a continued interest in Regis. Uniting graduates and students in its programs, it introduces students to Regis by means of scholarships. One of the biggest sponsors to the Building Fund, the Association feels that with the construction of a new building, "a long cherished dream becomes a reality."

Guild

Mothers of the students, alumnae and all those with a personal interest in Regis, comprise the very active membership of the Regis College Guild. Again this year, Mrs. Patrick Hurley is responsible for the success of its endeavors.

October opened the season's social calendar with a bridge party in the Foyer of College Hall. Mothers of the Freshmen were introduced to the organization at a formal reception, amid early autumn rust, gold and crimson foliage.

Right Reverend Joseph E. Schieder, National Director of Catholic Youth in Washington, D. C., was guest speaker at the fall luncheon in November. Mrs. Frank Harris was Chairman of this annual event.

Regis Hall became the setting of the Christmas sale and tea, under the direction of Mrs. John Harrington. The traditional Communion breakfast took place in April. Regis Night at the Pops occurred in May, with Mrs. William D. Moran in charge.

Directly benefiting the students of Regis College, the Guild annually awards a full tuition scholarship and generously aids the financial status of the Building Fund, throughout the year.

To all those who, in any way, participate in this organization, Regisites extend their most humble appreciation and sincere gratitude.

TRADITIONS

Fall

Study and Nature call Judith Michaud, Nancy Bemis and Patricia Thalheimer.

Norma McNamara and Sheila Joyce gaily lead Seniors to the Ethics Class.

"Any room?" Margaret Rogers and Helen Sullivan ask Bettye Morrissey, as Seniors leave.

Marie Dalton chats. Margaret Rogers and Victoria Macchia get ready.

Rosemary Denmark, Carole Bocasky and Helen Scully meet His Excellency.

Helen Scully receives cap and gown from Archbishop Cushing, on Founders' Day.

Winter

A halo of snow crowns the statue of St. Ann, as Nature hovers protectingly around it.

Christmas parties gather at festive trees to celebrate the Nativity.

Constance Lucchini and Mary Driscoll prepare to combat New England blasts.

Barbara Welch and Judith Giotosa examine Christmas wrappings on sale.

Mary Cataldo and Elizabeth Langie, '54, wrap Christmas presents, in their fourth-floor suite, College Hall.

Glimpses of ancient days, memories of long ago appear in the Tower.

Regis Hall, on the top of the hill, stands silhouetted against a sky, decked in Nature's finery.

Spring

May Queen, Eleanor Hughes, stops with her court, on the Parterre.

After the procession, Eleanor poses with her attendant, Anne Raymond.

Prom Queen, Terese Crosby, is flanked by Rosemary Denmark and Helen Scully.

The Grand March has assembled, awaiting Terese's message to her class.

Vilma Padovano plants tree, aided by Margaret Hassan.

Athletics

Sportsmanship is a necessary qualification in every personality. It is found predominantly in Athletics. With the start of the Fall term, Field Hockey takes precedence. When Winter comes, the ski trip to North Conway, interclass volleyball games, varsity and intramural basketball hold the spotlight. Easter vacation highlights the Bermuda trip, with sun, sand and surf. Springtime is when a Regisite's fancy turns to softball and the tennis tournament.

Athletic Day, with the student-faculty softball game and the hoop rolling contest, gives the perfect ending to a well rounded sportive year at Regis.

Bright smiles, cheers and laughter mark Campus Day as an outstanding event in Memory's album.

"By way of the sea, we're Bermuda-bound." In the Spring, the Athletic Association sponsored this trip. For a week, twenty-two Regisites lived on this island paradise of bright skies.

Hoop Rolling Contest Highlights Athletic Year at College

Proudly displaying their multi-colored hoops, these Seniors hope to win the race or perhaps the prize for the most original decorations. This is a Campus Day tradition.

With friendly rivalry of interclass spirit, teams engage in a lively game of basketball.

"We're Bermuda-bound by way of plane." A group of A.A. members pauses with Miss Hughes.

Regis Aims to Please With a Sport for Every Personality

Jeanne Driscoll, Snow Queen, gives pointers on how a professional does it.

Teamwork is the keynote of volleyball, as can be seen by attentive faces of these Sophomores.

Table tennis, a popular indoor game for Physical Education classes, appeals to two Freshmen.

Joan Turner and Margaret Hassan, '54, are ready to begin a game of field hockey. Suzanne Brebbia, '56, waits to receive.

Collegians Enjoy Winter Sports Indoors and Outdoors

The Regis basketball team is in action, brushing up for games with neighboring colleges.

To the strains of "Swing Your Partner," Freshmen learn to square dance in the Gym classes.

If the weather prohibits tennis, badminton is the next substitute to motivate the Gym classes.

Regisites and instructors invade North Conway for the annual semester-vacation ski trip, following examinations and retreat.

Yearbook Editors Put Finishing Touches on MOUNT REGIS

Yearbook aides, Bette Lou Mullins, Joan Turner, Kathleen Evans and Carole Bocasky, examine editorial copy with Judith Gioiosa, Helen Sullivan and Elizabeth Langie.

1954

Co-Editors, Consuelo Morgan and Arlene Drown, formulate ideas for the '54 MOUNT REGIS.

Business Staff Concentrates on Fund-Raising Campaigns

1954

Business staff, Helen Scully, Adele Dengeleski, Jeanne Connelly, Jeanne Devereaux, Alice Campbell and Marie Dalton, plan dance.

Herald, Hemetera Editors Set Printing Dates and Deadlines

Every Regisite reads the Herald, as may well be observed here. Checking on the latest issue are Joan Turner and Bette Lou Mullins, feature writers; Helen Sullivan, Editor; Judith Gioiosa, Arlene Drown, Kathleen Evans and Carole Bocasky, news writers; Elizabeth Langie and Consuelo Morgan, columnists; and Nancy Courtney, Business Manager. Published monthly, the newspaper keeps the students well-informed on college activities.

1954

Reviewing magazine exchanges gives the Hemetera staff ideas for the future publications. Comparing varied format and content are associate editors, Carole Bocasky, Kathleen Evans, Joan Turner, Judith Gioiosa, Elizabeth Langie, Editor Bette Lou Mullins, Arlene Drown, Consuelo Morgan and Helen Sullivan. Hemetera's three yearly issues afford students an opportunity for a more serious and diversified type of writing.

Joan Turner and Margaret Hassan confer with Carole Bocasky, Government Head.

Editors Consuelo Morgan, Bette Mullins and Helen Sullivan talk over plans.

Bettye Morrissey quizzes her roommate, Rosemary Denmark, NSA delegate.

Regina Mitchell and Paula Clair, Home Economists, map trips to the West.

Class Song

As we journey through life together,
Many faces we shall greet;
There'll be new friends and there'll be true friends,
And all sorts of folk we'll meet.
There'll be parting when we're starting,
Down some unfamiliar trail,
But when we part, deep from our heart,
We shall say this without fail:

Regis, our dear Alma Mater,
We'll cherish fond mem'ries of you.
As time goes on, tighter the bond
That keeps us together, whate'er we do.
So Regis, we'll always remember
What you have instilled in our hearts.
So now to each friend, and to the end,
Here's love and success to you!

Degrees are conferred on Seniors by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing

Degree Day

June 15, 1954

Academic Procession	Right Reverend Daniel T. McColgan, Ph.D.
Presentation of Candidates for Degrees	Right Reverend Augustine F. Hickey, V.G.
Conferring of Degrees	Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, D.D.
Address to Graduates	Reverend Hunter Guthrie, S.J., St. Joseph College, Philadelphia

Alma Mater

High on the hilltop in sunshine and shadow
E'er tenderly guarding the lives 'neath your care;
Fostering goodness in hearts that are grateful,
Our dear Alma Mater, attend our fond prayer.
Hold all our mem'ries safe in your keeping,
And hallow our dreams of the future's bright hours.
Dear Alma Mater, we're watching and waiting;
We twine in our hearts for you undying flowers.

Peace like an angel wing hovers around us;
In sorrow and laughter its clear light we see;
Regis, our dear Alma Mater, we bless you
And faithful to you and your standards we'll be.
Hold all our mem'ries safe in your keeping,
And hallow our dreams of the future's bright hours.
Dear Alma Mater, we're watching and waiting;
We twine in our hearts for you undying flowers.

1954

"Kind Lady" presents Joseph Curran, Mary Geizfread, Mary Keelan and Terese Crosby in one of its most dramatic scenes.

Epilogue

Oft the cloud which wraps the present hour
Serves but to brighten all our future days.
(Barbarossa, Act V, Sc. 3)

One chapter is finished; another is begun. Four years of memories are recorded in the pages of college life. These pages will be reread fondly, even after many chapters have succeeded them.

Regis, the friendships and knowledge found there will be remembered always. Classes, examinations and seminars are left behind, but these are the materials which the graduate will mold into success.

The excitement of Graduation is tempered by the sadness of finality. We will assemble as students for the last time. On Baccalaureate Sunday, we ask God to bless our own future and the future of every classmate. With solemn dignity, each Senior receives her degree, culminating her collegiate progress.

Education has been only tasted. Its inexhaustible abundance lies undiminished, offering lasting youth and viability to the mind that digests its richness.

We have stepped into the future. It is our turn to mark the following pages of our life as the women we were trained to be. If every page is written in wisdom, happiness and grace, every chapter will be a success.

A Book To Be Treasured . . .

This annual is a permanent record, in picture and prose, of the academic year 1953-1954 at Regis College. Its value will increase as the years pass, and the quality of the printing will contribute in great measure to its lasting worth.

The Andover Press, Ltd., takes pride in its well-known craftsmanship which, combined with the long hours of careful planning and painstaking editorial work by the MOUNT REGIS Staff, makes this a book to be treasured.
